

Kimi is a creative, free spirit who loves nature, a good cry laugh, dancing to local live music, camping, collecting vintage clothing, gardening, riding her 1941 Schwinn Liberty klunker, listening to her vinyl collection & frolicking with her beloved herd of Tibetan Terriers & her Grand-dog, Great Dane, Granite.

She grew up in Larkspur, as did her father & grandfather, among the towering Redwood trees she loved so much and thought of as family.

Her favorite thing is family and spending time with her husband, Peter, who she met in a Native Plant Identification biology class at College of Marin in 1979 in the summer right out of high school. ~And, being Mom to their wonderful (now adult) kids, Chad, Ellie, Dana, Wilder & their bonus child, Sara.

She takes great pride in their small family business, that's why Peter and her put their name on the door. As she says, "We eat, sleep & breath Brooks Tree Care."

Kimi is ever so grateful that she got to raise their kids while working in their home office, where she got to witness their first steps, hear their first words and kiss away a lot of boo boos.
